There are so many exciting things coming up for the Milford Land Conservation Trust. We are thrilled to see the first signs of spring all around us and are ready to get back out into the community to spread the joys of conservation with our neighbors and friends. Here are some of the things we having coming up.

MARCH:

In the coming weeks we will be announcing the name of our new mascot which was selected from over 50 submissions by students througour the city of Milford. Be on the lookout for our woodchuck very soon.

APRIL:

We encourage you to stop by the Milford Public Library to see our display which highlights much of the work that we are doing on our properties and throughout the city of Milford.

MAY:

Our annual meeting is May 11th from 6:30pm-8:30pm. Join us via Zoom as we elect our leadership and hear all about the value of salt marshes.
